The Canadian Farm Builders Association (CFBA) was initially formed by a group of contractors who met in Guelph, Ontario on February 5th, 1980 and has grown to include numerous stakeholders within the agricultural and construction industries. The CFBA is a completely autonomous and member-financed Association.

The objectives of the CFBA are:

- To promote and advance the construction of structurally sufficient, environmentally sound, and efficient farm buildings in Canada.
- To promote and advance the standards of farms structures through research, education and practical application.
- To encourage high quality work and fair dealings by CFBA members towards the farming community and the general public.
- To represent the membership in legislation proposals, codes, safety, labour, and other matters administered by governments.
- Organize and support meetings to provide education and exchange of information amongst CFBA members, in a manner that complies with the requirements of the Competition Act.
- To promote and foster the safety, knowledge, skill, capability, sustainability and fairly earned success of the members of the Canadian Farm Builders Association.

CFBA Members in good standing may use the CFBA logo on their business/organization's promotional materials and website. You may use 'Member of' or 'Supporter of' or similar. The CFBA permits no unauthorized use or misrepresentation. Please email cfba@cfba.ca to request a high resolution logo for this purpose.
